

Behaviour Policy

The Behaviour Policy is written as an extension to the Scottish Burned Children's Club [SBCC] summer camp rules.

The SBCC endeavours to ensure that each child benefits from the activities provided and that the activity for each child is a positive experience. Under no circumstances will the SBCC allow anything to be detrimental to the happy running of an activity.

It is expected that parents and carers will disclose to the SBCC any behaviour issues that may impact on the running of an activity. This will be treated with total confidence and every measure will be put into place to support that child. Disclosing information will not necessarily mean that children cannot attend activities but an action plan can be put into place. However, there may be occasions when children are unable to attend certain activities or camps. This decision will be made by a minimum of three committee members and at least one of them will be an Executive Committee member.

If unacceptable behaviour or a situation arises at any activity the SBCC reserves the right to send any child or adult home. If this situation occurs then it is the parent/ carers responsibility to ensure the child is collected from the activity or camp, at their own expense. If an adult is suspended from an activity or summer camp then it will be their responsibility to make their own way home. A disciplinary procedure will then commence.
